

TENNESSEE BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Forensic Services Division

Toxicology Quality Assurance and Procedures Manual

6.12 Centrifuges

6.12 Centrifuges

Centrifuges are used to separate substances of different densities by centrifugal force. Rotation speeds are not critical and are only needed to separate the substance into layers. They shall be considered to be within acceptable performance limits by visual verification of the separation. Therefore, no further verification shall be required.